Employment History:

2003 – Present: Freelance. I write a weekly slot for the Financial Times. I've also written for titles such as the Telegraph, Mail, GQ, Conde Nast Traveller and Management Today on business, travel and lifestyle. I do some copywriting, ghostwriting, script writing and editorial consultancy too.

2002 - 2003: A year's travel, including India, Indonesia and South America. While away, I continued to do the occasional piece of work, including travel features for the Telegraph and the Observer.

2001 - 2002: Freelance work for a number of publications including The Sunday Business, Management Today, The Independent and Business Voice.

2000 - 2001: Commissioning Editor, Business2.0. Commissioning, editing and originating features throughout the magazine, finding new writers and managing budgets. Also writing, rewriting and subbing features, profiles and shorter pieces. The magazine folded after a year.

1994 - 2000: Section Editor, Management Today. Responsible for two sections of the magazine: the business zeitgeist and the technology pages. Commissioning, editing and writing for these (and other) areas of the magazine. Originating and writing longer features; writing headlines and captions. Prior to this I was a staff writer and an editorial researcher on the title.

Education:

1990 - 1993: Collingwood College, University of Durham
Honours Natural Sciences (Physics and Philosophy) 2:1.

1984 - 1989: The Highfield School, Highfield, Letchworth, Hertfordshire
A levels: Maths, Physics, Economics.
10 'O' Levels.

Other Experience:

Can take publishable photos.

Have written for dozens of other publications.

Have appeared on TV and radio as a business commentator.

Some work for a local paper before joining Management Today.

Can use web authoring software (Dreamweaver, Frontpage)
